King Edward's Cup Goes to Earl of Dunraven's Yacht Cariad.

(Hy Associated Press.)

COWES, ISLE OF WIGHT, August 8.—
The regatta of the Royal Yacht Squadron opened to-day. The chief event was the race for King Edward's cup. Almost as great interest, however, centered in the race for fifty-two footers over the short Queen's course, which resulted in a victory for the Herreshoft-built bost Sonya. The King's cup was won by the Earl of Dunyaven's Carlad.

Extreme Heat, Not Laudanum.

Mr. William T. Day writes from Alexandria, Va., to correct a report that was published recently to the effect that he had taken laudanum while visiting at his father's house, in Fulton.

Mr. Day says that he was taken suddenly sick and was unconscious for a while, having been overcome by heat. He had not taken laudanum and never in his life has he tasted laudanum as far as he recollects.

Nothing Done About It.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
FAIR GROUNDS, TASLEY, VA., August 8.—For the first time in the seven years' history of the Peninsula Fair Association at Tasley, the races had to be declared off on account of rain. Heavy showers began about 11 and continued until after 2, when the track was to mudy for use. The management quickly decided to carry over the regular programme for Tuesday until to-morrow, and to run the fair through Saturday, thus completing the four days' programme. Nothing Done About It.

"The "negotiations' referred to never reached a stage that would justify the term." said Mr. Jako Wells last night, when asked concerning the report that he would control the West End Electric Park next season, and that negotiations were pending for the lease of the park. Some months ago Mr. Wells said, there was something said about getting control of West End Park for next season, but there had been absolutely nothing done in that direction.

Captain Pizzini, lessee of the Reservoir Park, is now in New York, and there could be nothing done until his return. The Wells syndicate now controls the Ponce de Leon Park in Atlanta and the Thunderstorm in Norfolk.

CAMPAIGN NOW STRENUOUS

Ninth.

Senator Has Seven and Governor Six Dates in Next Seven

With cleven working days before the party in Virginia all the candidates are strenuously working to cover as much of as many people as possible. The last quarter of the hard mile race has begun, and it is a driving finish. Every candidate is at highest tension, moving from point to point, making addresses and meeting and conferring, with voters and perfecting their organization in the intervals. Not an hour is lost except those necessarily devoted to siceping and cat ing. The travel is hard on men who must speak for two hours or more, sometimes twice a day, and then catch a train and collect ideas for the next speech, which must be adapted as far as possible to the

The senatorial struggle between Senator The senatorial struggle between Senator Martin and Governor Montague is still exceeding in interest the other contests, but the governorship is looming into considerable prominence, with the three candidates all very active. The rival senatorial aspirants are going after each other with more vigor and less caution than in the earlier starges of the fight. than in the earlier stages of the fight. Senator Martin in the Rocky Mount speech assailed the Governor more vigorously than he had done prior to that time. The Governor, too, is growing more vigorous and direct in his attack on his opponent, and is reiterating his charge of a machine opposing him. Senator Martin retorts with a counter charge that the Governor is the man backed by a machine. The attitude of each on the primary and on fair elections is being aired by the other. It is expected that the canvass will necessarily grow more personal and bitter as the primary date nears.

Both in the Southwest

Both in the Southwest. Both the candidates are now in the Southwest. The Governor spoke at Pulaski yesterday, the senator at Tazewell. To-day the senator will be in Bristol and the Governor in Wytheville. To-morrow Senator Martin has a double-header unter Gate City at noon and Big Stone Gap at night, while the Governor holds forth at Abingdon.

On Friday the Senator will be on the on Friesd, the Sednor Will undertake to undo his rival's work at Gate City. On Saturday the Senator will address the people of Grayson at Independence, while the Governor speaks to those of Giles at Pearisburg.

Next Monday the Governor will be at City In Grayson sills on the concept's

Next Monday the Governor will be at Galax in Grayson, sill on his opponent's trail, while Mr. Martin will speak at Woodstock, the county seat of the great county of Shenandosh. That is as far dates of both are given out. Senator Martin has outlined his dates up to the very date of election. He will speak at Roanoke City, the battleground of the Sixth District, on next Tuesday, and at Wytheville next day. On Thursday of next week he will appear at Leesburg in Loudon and the next night he will speak in Petersburg. On Saturday, August 19th, Senator Martin will speak at a barbecue at Lewrenceville in Brunswick county. One faction in the county is supporting him, the other is behind the Governor.

Brunswick County is supporting him, the other is behind the Governor.

From Lawrenceville the Schator will come to Richmond and make an open-air address at Jefferson Park. He may also speak in Fulton in the afternoon, but this is not determined. He will close the long campaign at Boydton on Monday, the 21st. at noon, and Chase City, also in Mecidenburg, that night.

It is not considered likely that the Governor will again challenge for joint debate, though his dates for the 17th, 18th and 18th have not been announced, nor his plans for the 21st, the last day. It is expected that he will close the campaign in Richmond, which is now regarded as doubtful if the wagers made on the result here may be taken as indication.

The Mountains Next Year.

The session next year will be held at the Hot Springs or the White Sulphur, probably the former.

When the session this morning was called to order, there were seated on the rostrum with Mr. Alfred P. St. George Tucker, doan of the law laculty of George Washington University, Washington, D. C., and president of the American Bar Association; Alexander Hamilton, of Petersburg, and S. C. The Morning Session.

Mr. A. W. Patterson, of Richmond, chairman of the Executive Committee, rapped the session to order at 1140 o'clock. He called attention to the fact that the association met here at one of its carliest assions and had met here frequently slace. He said the Executive Committee had selected John B. Minor, of Richmond, to act as secretary in the stead of Eugene Massie, who has resigned after long years of faithful service. Mr. Patterson concluded by presenting Mr. Alfred P. Thom, the president.

Mr. Thom was received with a burst of applause as he arose. He said he did not forcese when he accepted the position of president of the association it would not be possible for him to discharge all its duties, one of which is the reading of won't care."

"I have been accused," said Mr. Thom,
"of circulating the false report that I get a good crowd."

The Torrens System.

Mr. Thom presented Mr. Eugene C. Massie, of the Richmond bar, who read a Massie, of the Richmond bur, who read a paper on the Torrens system of land registration and transfer. Mr. Massie began his address with a number of humorous allusions to the failure of Mr. Thom to deliver an address, and his placing somebody size in an atfitude which would elicit the criticism of the audience. Mr. Massie has made a closer study of the Torrens system than has been made by any other lawyer in Virginia, and has for years kept up a fight for the adoption of the reform. He promises to push the fight in the Logislature, in which he will have a seat this winter. He went into a discussion of the merits of the system with considerable detail and was listened to with close attention. There was proto with close attention. Night Session.

It was nearly 2 o'clock when the night session began. A storm came up late in the afternoon, and everybody was driven indoors. The curtailment of the afternoon caused many to go out again, with the result that many were into returning, late for dinner and so late in getting into the hall that the session was postponed until such a late hour.

Prosident Thom introduced Judge Phiegar in a most happy manner, and this popular lawyer received an ovation of applause as he came to the desk.
